Several municipalities, schools have contested elections Tuesday

By Gari Voss

Summer months are packed with outdoor activities, special events, family memories, and more. With the busy family schedules, many residents forget that there is often a "primary" election in August. On August 5, 2025, from 7am to 8pm, polls will be open for this summer's election. Those municipalities need their residents to take a few minutes from busy activities and vote.

City of South Haven

The only candidate election will be on the west side of Allegan County where the primary nonpartisan mayoral race in South Haven will be decided. Candidates are Incumbent Annie Brown, Councilmember Mary Hosley, and Joshua Lemmer, who will vie for the 2-year position of mayor. All three wards in South Haven will be responsible for the decision in this nonpartisan primary election.

Townships

Around Allegan County, townships have proposals on the ballot. These proposals will improve living standards for residents.

Laketown Township

The Laketown Township voters will make decisions on two proposals.

Roads, Paths, Drains. First, there is the reduction for Road, Non-motorized paths, and Drain Millage Renewal. In order to continue improving roads, paths and drains, the township board is looking to renew the 2.0 mills assessed for those projects.

"Shall a previous increase in property taxes of 2.0 mills on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against property in Laketown Township, Allegan County… be decreased to 1.5 mills ($1.50 per thousand dollars of taxable valuation) for three years, 2026 through 2028, inclusive, to provide funds for the repair, construction, reconstruction and/or blacktopping of roads and non-motorized paths in the Township; and to provide funds for the repair and maintenance of drains in the Township; and shall the Township be authorized to levy the tax?"

The estimated revenue the Township will collect if the millage is approved and levied in the 2026 calendar year is approximately $984,700.00 which is approximately $388,900.00 less than if it was renewed at 2.0 mills.

Fire Department. The second is for the operating funds, equipment, and apparatus for the Laketown Township Fire Department. This would increase the millage from 1.0 to 1.5 mills for 2025 through 2029.

"Shall a previous increase in property taxes of 1.0 mill (reduced by required rollback to 0.985 mill) on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against property in Laketown Township, Allegan County, Michigan, … be increased to 1.5 mill ($1.50 per

Missing Kayakers Located in Kalamazoo River – All Individuals Safe

The Plainwell Department of Public Safety is pleased to announce that several kayakers reported missing earlier Saturday have been successfully located and removed in the Kalamazoo River. All individuals are safe and accounted for.

At approximately 7 pm on Saturday, a group of kayakers departed from a launch site near D Avenue and failed to return as expected. A local business owner, observing the delay and unable to reach the individuals by phone, contacted Allegan County Central Dispatch out of concern for their safety.

At approximately 9:30 pm, the Plainwell Department of Public Safety was dispatched to Fannie Pell Park in response to the report of missing kayakers. Due to the potential route of travel ending as far as Otsego, assistance was requested from the Cooper Township Fire Department and the Allegan County Sheriff's Office Marine Patrol.

Multiple agencies, including Plainwell Department of Public Safety, Cooper Fire Department, and Allegan County Marine Patrol, initiated search operations and deployed watercraft at various points along the river.

During the search, Allegan County Central Dispatch received a call from a third party who had made contact with one of the kayakers. Dispatch was eventually able to establish direct communication and obtain the group's GPS location.

Plainwell officers located the kayakers shortly thereafter, near the Plainwell Public Library. All individuals were safely removed from the water and evaluated by on-scene medical personnel. No injuries were reported.

The Plainwell Department of Public Safety would like to remind the community to prioritize safety when enjoying water activities on the Kalamazoo River. Please follow these safety guidelines:

- Always wear a properly fitted life jacket.
- Inform someone of your planned route and expected return time.
- Check weather and water conditions before heading out.
- Paddle with a partner or group when possible.
- Carry a waterproof communication device in case of emergencies.

"We are grateful for the swift response of our team of first responders in Plainwell, Allegan County, and Cooper in resolving this incident safely," said Kevin Callahan, Plainwell Director of Public Safety. "We urge everyone to take precautions to ensure safe and enjoyable experiences on our waterways."

Governor Gretchen Whitmer announced on July 21, 2025, the appointment of Christopher Burnett to complete the Honorable William A. Baillargeon's term on the Allegan County 57th District Court bench.

Local market raises money for family in auto accident

By Gari Voss

Baked goods, art, and other items filled the table at the Village Market on Saturday, July 19, 2025, as employees stepped forward to raise money that would assist the Otto family after their tragic car accident that left both adults in need of extensive rehabilitation and took the life of their unborn baby girl. Photos: Sharon Peters

The news could not have been worse. Village Market employee Jordan Otto and her husband Michael had been in an automobile accident as they were headed home from a shower. Jordan was pregnant and near delivery, but a healthy birth would not be in the cards. A car came from what seemed nowhere and struck their vehicle. Both Jordan and Michael were injured, and the unborn child was lost.

The couple had numerous injuries from which to recover. Michael was expected to have an extended stay at Mary Free Bed Rehabilitation Hospital in Grand Rapids, and Jordan would be at his side.

Jordan, her brothers Matthew and Colin, and Michael's grandma had all been part of the Village Market family in Allegan. Their store family sprung into action. Sharon Peters and Jane Oram along with Tina Ranney, Debra Wykuis, and Robin Knuth organized a bake sale for July 19, 2025. The response was more than they had ever imagined.

Food arrived from employees and friends, art appeared, and customers began pouring over the tables. Those who did not purchase items often gave.

"I really think that employees stepped up, plus employees' friends brought in baked goods," shared Tina Ranney a longtime employee and part of management team at Village Market. "The Bake Sale raised over $1100 for the family. It was unbelievable."

The Otto family has a long road to travel with physical rehabilitation and the mental/emotional strain of losing a baby in such a tragic manner. The support given by their extended "family" at Village Market is phenomenal and demonstrates the power of friendship in times of adversity.

Visitors plentiful at antique show, sidewalk sales and more

By Gari Voss

The fun began on Thursday, July 24, 2025, and gathered momentum into Sunday, July 27th. The Allegan shops had good "foot traffic" on Friday, and activity increased on Saturday as non-profits and organizations set up booths with activities along the sidewalks from Trowbridge to Locust to Brady and Hubbard Streets.

Visitors to Allegan could enjoy the art activities at Cottage Arts on Hubbard then follow sidewalk chalk arrows led past Beyond Bones (Yes, they were open for the weekend.) to the Bounce House sponsored by the Tiki Kut Salon at Mahan Park on Brady Street. Kids could tumble through the Fire House with the Allegan Area Fire Department on Brady, then wander to Locust St. to catch ducks with Hungry for Christ, and spin the prize wheel with the Allegan Jaycees who were having their own birthday bash. The crowds gathered on Trowbridge Street to admire the many snakes and turtles that Kora and Keith Sweet were willing to share.

The Saturday sales dodged the rain, but not long after Tantrick's Birthday Celebration began on the Riverfront, the rain came. But never worry, by 6:15ish, the rain ceased, and the music lovers began arriving with their chairs and munchies to enjoy the evening.

Music at Mahan had chosen to move their concert to the First Presbyterian Church which gave music lovers an opportunity to stop at the Antique Sale that was open in the church's undercroft.

Allegan did not slow down on Sunday as the Allegan County Fairgrounds opened for the Allegan Antique Show and First Presbyterian Church continued their sale.

Young people of all ages spun the wheel at the Allegan Jaycees Booth then chose a prize of their liking during Saturday, July 19th festivities in Allegan.

Tiki Kut Salon moved to Mahan Park and gave children an opportunity to enjoy the Bounce House while parents and siblings checked out the tables.

Even entrepreneurial youth set up booths and sold handmade items during Allegan's Sidewalk Sales Family Day on July 26, 2025.

The Allegan Riverfront was busy with Corn Hole, Darts, Disc Golf and Stein holding, then the sky opened, and the drops gushed. The rain took people inside during Tantrick's 7th Birthday Celebration in the early evening of July 26, 2025, but no one seemed to mind as there were appetizers, a strawberry shortcake bar, and blind beer tasting along with favorite drinks

Cold Leather Seats moved from Mahan Park to the First Presbyterian Church on Sat., July 26th to avoid the rain. The crowd enjoyed their sweet vibes, and many took time to peek in on the Antique Sale that had been in progress throughout Sidewalk Sale Days.

Traverse City violence too close to home- action needed

MIKE'S MUSINGS

MIKE WILCOX
■ PUBLISHER ■

Here we go again. This time it is too close to home. Another alleged nut-job gone crazy injuring a dozen people, some critical at a Wal Mart, not with a gun, but with an ordinary pocketknife. If it weren't for Marine veteran Derrick Perry, who pulled out his legal concealed weapon and a couple other brave fellows, others could have been hurt by 42-year-old Bradford Gille.

This time, the incident occurred in Traverse City, a beloved Lake Michigan resort town more associated with cherry festivals and tranquil bay views than gunfire and chaos. Yet in late July, it joined a long, tragic list of American communities torn by a mass violence incident.

While details of the Traverse City shooting are still emerging, what's clear is that the emotional scars will linger far longer than the headlines. Residents are reeling, families are grieving, and yet again, a community is left asking: How did this happen here?

The uncomfortable truth is that there are fewer places in the U.S. where it doesn't happen. In fact one of the last place places I would ever suspect an incident like this is Traverse City.

Mass shootings and other forms of public violence are now so frequent that they barely disrupt the national rhythm of news cycles. They happen in schools, grocery stores, malls, parades, and churches. The settings vary, but the aftermath is always the same: stunned faces, candles and flowers, politicians offering condolences — and a paralyzing lack of action.

We've become a nation where violence in public spaces is as American as fireworks on the Fourth of July. Even our president has been the victim of two assassination attempts. And that should chill us to the bone.

What happened in Traverse City isn't an isolated incident. It's part of a broader, troubling trend of societal breakdown. Mental health crises, ideological extremism, and a pervasive sense of alienation are converging into a volatile and deadly mix. Many of the perpetrators of these incidents are young men, often with prior red flags, acting out in anger, desperation, or delusion.

So, what can be done?

The answer is not simple, but it is urgent. We need a multi-pronged approach: sensible gun reform that respects rights while keeping weapons out of dangerous hands (the keyword is sensible, I am not advocating taking guns out of the hands of responsible citizens); more robust mental health infrastructure; renewed community investment; and a media and social environment that does not glorify violence or deepen division.

At the heart of it all, though, we need to confront an uncomfortable cultural truth: America has a problem with violence. It's embedded in our mythology, our politics, and too often in our entertainment. Until we, as a nation, begin to value peace and human life above ideology and profit, Traverse City will not be the last headline of its kind.

The people of Northern Michigan are strong, and they will heal. But they should not have to. Not like this. Not again.

It's time we stopped accepting mass violence as inevitable and start treating it like the national emergency it truly is.

Life as Performance Art

G CORWIN STOPPEL

We often ask each other, "What are your plans for today?" which really means "What are your goals to accomplish and then check off your to-do list?" Or we ask ourselves about our plans for the day. Is there another way of inquiring about short term goals? Perhaps you do that with some of the people in your life. It is in part a way of checking in, making sure our calendars are coordinated. Or it might be a very nice way of nagging someone about a job left undone for the past weeks or months.

New Year's Resolutions are another form of goal setting. We tell ourselves, perhaps sharing it with others, that this year I am going to lose weight, save more money, spend less, or do this, that, and the other things. Psychologists tell us that often we begin straying from our goals before the end of January. That's when we start looking for another important date, perhaps a birthday or anniversary or an important holiday, to provide us an opportunity for a 'do over.'

Goals are important for us, but I have come to believe, they are successful only when they lead to some serious thinking about our greater purpose in life. Having a purpose or reason is more important than we realize.

Let's say last January you set a goal of earning and saving a specific amount of money. Good. That is always a wise thing to do, but what is the purpose? Unless your late business partner was Jacob Marley and your name is E Scrooge, having an ever-larger hoard of money doesn't bring much joy to life. After a while, the goal has lost its meaning because we don't have a good answer for all the work. It can lead to giving up or becoming obsessed with work and money.

Having a purpose means answering the omni-present question of 'why.' Why am I doing this? What is its purpose? If we have no answers, at worst, then like the anonymous writer of the Old Testament book of Ecclesiastes, we will start moaning, "All is vanity." Trust me, that is the fast track to a miserable life. We end up feeling like we are simply taking up real estate and resources more than truly living.

Perhaps instead of starting with our short-term goals, we need to look at the big, challenging, and long-term question of our purpose in life. What is the one great thing that gives meaning to getting out of bed in the morning? What is the one thing that puts a smile on our face when we slide between the sheets that night?

If we are lucky, we might have more than one thing that gives a sense of purpose. For example, you add a pet animal into your household. Now you have a new purpose in life: the well-being of that animal. Or you fall in love and enter into a long-term relationship. Now, the overriding purpose in life is mutual happiness. Or it could be something else. Your purpose directs your goals.

O. Henry's short story, The Gift of the Magi perfectly explains it. A young, impoverished married couple wants to give each other a meaningful gift for Christmas as a tangible expression of their love. Each of them sacrifices something very important to make a great good possible. All of their thoughts and action becomes purpose put into action.

The first challenge might be to understand and articulate what we believe is our purpose in life; the second is to figure out what to do when circumstances radically change. Among the more common changes might be when a spouse dies, when the children leave home and the parent(s) become empty-nesters, or retirement. In all of these situations we find a large part of our identity in our relationship with other people who are supreme importance to us. When that relationship changes we have to find a new purpose.

Finding that purpose is perhaps one of the most important things we can do, and it is not easy if we have been forced to deal with new circumstances in life. From the start, we are cut loose from an older pattern of life, and some of our responsibilities disappear. Old goals become all but meaningless, and yet we are stuck with each new set of twenty-four hours.

Until we find a new purpose it is far too easy to lapse into a meaningless routine of filling up the hours. The world provides us with no end of time-wasting opportunities - television, the internet, too much food and drink, and more. We develop what psychologists describe as Brain Rot where we lose our motivation to do anything. We stay isolated from others, we yield to all of the click bait on the computer or television and quit thinking and doing. It is no way to live, and we know it.

Or perhaps we yield to the temptation of thinking of any sort of action has having a purpose. My father had a number of retired friends who would get together every morning for coffee, and the initial conversation was always, "So, what's new?" They would have their coffee, talk, and go on their way. Then, later in the afternoon the same fellows would meet at the same diner for coffee and ask what was new since the last saw each other a few hours earlier. Yes, they were in motion, but that was it.

It might take time, and there might be a few false starts, but we have to keep working at finding that one great thing that gives purpose to our life. Fortunately, there are plenty of good examples of how to change.

Dale Carnegie wrote of the day President Theodore Roosevelt visited the construction site of the National Cathedral. He spotted three workmen and asked what they were doing. The first said he was stacking stones for the masons to use; the second said he was moving a stack of stones from one place to another. The third paused, stood up straight, smiled broadly and said, "I am helping to build the greatest cathedral in the world." You and I know it is the third man, doing the same work as the other two, who found his purpose in life.

A man I truly admired, Ed Gardener of Clover Lick, West Virginia, had spent his entire professional career working at the Green Bank Observatory. Then he retired. Instead of joining 'the boys' as he called his fellow retirees, for coffee every morning, he bought a banjo and taught himself how to play Clawhammer or frailing style banjo. He dedicated himself to it, practicing several hours each day. Soon after, he took lessons from Dwight Dillard at Hillsboro, learning from one of the finest clawhammer musicians in the country. Once Ed learned it, he and his banjo started going to nursing homes to entertain others, and he started teaching the style to youngsters.

When asked why he did it, he explained that he wasn't interested in winning competitions or making a record of his music. He wanted to put smiles on the hearts of others, entertain people a bit, and maybe help them forget their troubles so their life would be better.

There is a pattern here. We cannot afford to wait until a purpose drops into our lap. We have to go in search of it, grasp it, and take action.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Superintendent urges voters to support Fennville millage

To the Editor:

As Superintendent of Fennville Public Schools, I am writing to urge all residents to support the upcoming school millage vote on August 5, 2025. This critical measure is not a new tax, but rather the continuation of vital funding that directly impacts the quality of education and opportunities we can provide for our students. We are asking voters to approve an extension of the current millage rate that would even include a net decrease for most property taxpayers if approved.

The current millage has been instrumental in allowing us to maintain our facilities, ensure our facilities are safe and conducive to learning, and expand student learning spaces both indoors and out. Without this renewal, we would not be able to update the necessary infrastructure and learning spaces for the students at Fennville Public Schoos.

Our students are the future of Fennville. Investing in their education is an investment in the strength and prosperity of our entire community. The millage renewal ensures that Fennville Public Schools can continue to offer a high-quality education that prepares our young people for success in college, careers, and life.

I understand that every vote counts, and I encourage you to learn more about the millage by visiting our school district website (www.fennville.org). Your informed decision on August 5th will have a lasting impact on our students and the future of Fennville.

Please join me in voting on August 5, 2025.

Sincerely,
Albert Lombard,
Superintendent
Fennville Public Schools

Inaccurate to write all students will receive savings accounts

Dear Editor,

Establishing Children's Savings Accounts for post-high school education is an intriguing idea to benefit Allegan students. However, the recent Allegan News report leaves unanswered questions.

The News cites the Allegan County Community Foundation June press release. There, President/CEO Stephanie Calhoun states, "This grant from CEDAM allows us to launch ... in three local school districts: Allegan, Fennville, and Plainwell. Our goal is to expand this opportunity to all districts in Allegan County as additional funding/donations become available, so that every child has the tools and support they need to pursue their future."

"Every child" sounds wonderfully inclusive. In fact, because this grant is tax-funded, it ought to be.

But instead of offering equal benefit, "all districts in Allegan County" appears to exclude every home schooled child, as well as children attending Allegan County's eight Christian schools. And what about students at charter schools like Discovery and Outlook?

The state website says that the Community Economic Development Association of Michigan (CEDAM) is administered by the state Department of Labor and Economic Opportunity. While the department invites other donors, it's unclear how much of Allegan's grant funds, if any, are voluntary.

I hope the Allegan News will clarify which kindergartners in our county are eligible for these tax-funded accounts, and how much comes from tax payers versus private contributions.

Best,
Abigail Nobel

Wanda was the beloved daughter of John and Genevieve Kleinbrink. She graduated from Hopkins High School and went on build a life grounded in family, faith and simple joys.

Wanda married the love of her life, Thomas E. Clark, at the Allegan County Fair in 1952 during its Centennial Celebration with a grandstand stacked of over 4000 people from the community. It was quite an event, as she arrived by horse drawn carriage and her husband to be on horseback. This began the beginning of 60 beautiful years of marriage before Tom's passing in 2012. Together they raised a family and built a life full of purpose and love. They were self-employed farmers, raised cattle and later owned and trained standardbred racehorses. Embodying a spirit of hard work and dedication.

Wanda enjoyed being outside, especially in the summer by the pool with family and friends. For many years she was on a

When grandchildren and great grandchildren came along, she was there to enjoy them also. In her later years, she enjoyed being at home with her beloved cats often being referred to as the "crazy cat lady", and the regular card games played with her sisters and family.

One thing Tom and Wanda always enjoyed was the Allegan Fair. She says she only missed one day of the fair due to their honeymoon. For many years, they kept a travel trailer near the 4-H barns and enjoyed her family time during the week. She loved sitting in the grandstand and betting her quarter on the horse races with family.

Wanda is survived by her loving children, Tom &(Pam) Clark, Gary &(Robin) Clark, Sandy Clark. Grandchildren Nathan& (Jeanette) Clark, Shannon &(Ethan) Englehorn, Brandon &(Leslie) Clark, Alan & (Erin) Clark, Jennifer Clark (Seth Jaden), Ryan Utter, Max Miniat, and 10 great grandchildren who brought her endless joy.

Robert Dalton, 87

"Rocky" or "Bob" was born on April 22, 1938, in Niagara Falls, New York. He was born to Charles and Florence Dalton, the youngest of seven children. He survived them all.

Growing up during war times, Rocky decided to venture out and serve our great nation, for nearly a decade, in the United States Air Force. As an aircraft maintainer, he traveled the globe—visiting various locations including Germany, Italy, and South Africa. He then returned to the U.S.—first back home to New York, then eventually settling in Arizona.

There, he met and married his first wife, Bonnie. Rocky went on to have six children: Robert, David, Patricia, Charles, Dorothy, and Michelle. While in Arizona, he became a lifelong, die-hard fan of the UofA Wildcats—never missing an opportunity to support his team by wearing their T-shirts. He began his second career as a welder and later retired from Phoenix Cement Plant.

Rocky's life changed course again when he met Sandra at the local pool. They married and moved to Sandra's birth state of Michigan. Bob became a dad again to his bonus stepchildren, Todd and Tammi. In Michigan, he began his third career and eventually retired a final time from Haworth.

In this chapter of retirement, he enjoyed the simple things—you could often find him on the front porch with a Milwaukee's Beast in his hand or, surprisingly, watching any and all British crime dramas.

"It's not a man's working hours that are important—it's his leisure hours!" ~Poirot

He lived the rest of his life with Sandy by his side in their Pure Michigan home, surrounded by care, love, and frequent visits from many children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

As a lifelong, devout Catholic, Rocky went to join his Heavenly Father on July 19, 2025, in Allegan, MI.

Raymond LeRoy Harris, 94

Raymond LeRoy Harris, aged 94, departed this world in Allegan, Michigan, leaving behind an enduring testament to gentle strength, quiet wisdom, and lifelong ingenuity.

For 74 years, he shared a remarkable love story with his beloved wife, Gerry—woven through decades of resilience, laughter, devotion, and unwavering partnership.

Those who knew Ray drew deep inspiration from his steadfast morals, quiet humor, genuine acts of kindness, and tireless work ethic.

As a skilled mechanic, heavy equipment operator, and inventive carpenter, Ray saw possibility in every bolt, beam, or scrap of steel—often transforming them into thoughtful sculptures that quietly adorned the world he and Gerry built together. His hands shaped more than metal; they built a home filled with warmth, and a life rich in meaning. He didn't just build things—he built trust, belonging, and comfort for those around him.

Family, friends, neighbors, and colleagues alike found in Ray a man whose life was guided not by grand gestures, but by principled choices and quiet, steadfast love.

His legacy is one of hard work, creative spirit, humility, and the rare gift of making life's burdens feel a little lighter simply by being near.

We give thanks for a man both extraordinary and approachable—a man it was not only easy to love, but a true privilege.

A devoted husband, father, grandfather, brother, and friend—Ray will be forever cherished. He remains a guidepost for many on how to live with grace, purpose, and heart.

With so much love, we say "goodbye"—for now.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the First Congregational Church of Allegan, 323 Cutler St, Allegan, MI 49010, or to Wings Home, 330 Linn St, Allegan, MI 49010.

While at www.amsfuneralhomes.com please take time to sign Raymond's guestbook and/or share a memory with his family.

The Harris family is being cared for by the Avink, McCowen & Secord Funeral Homes and Cremation Society, 120 South Woodhams Street, Plainwell, MI 49080. 269-685-5881.

The national news has been filled with stories and speculation about the Epstein Files and possible connections with important people. Your thoughts, please.

-Woman at a farm market on M-89: "Well, it's a replacement for the soaps [soap operas], at least. It moves faster, but it's just as sleazy."

-Another woman, same location: "I hate to think that in a few years when my daughter goes off to college she'll be running into boys as bad as Trump." Friend with her, "Or older men who act like him. Our country's filled with moral degenerates like him. Maybe that's why no one is too upset about him."

-Man near the Fennville hardware store: "I don't know. I don't think we've had any president, except for Truman, who could keep his pants pulled up." Laughs. "Well, maybe Nixon. No one would be that desperate. I still don't like what's going on, though. Not one little bit!"

-Couple near the Blue Goose Restaurant: Man: "We were just talking about it with some friends. I think it's the news [media] stirring things up, just to get better ratings." Woman: "Ratings mean more money, you know. That's why we hear about it all the time."

-Man outside the Allegan Public Library: Quickly became angry, "Listen, the President said there was nothing to any of these rumors and stories and told us to quit talking about it. So why are you pushing on this? Huh? He's the Commander in Chief and he said to forget about it!" The man stormed off to the Court House.

-Woman near Huntington Bank, "I keep hoping it's just going to end, soon, and without a civil war. I'm sick to death of it. And worried about the future my grandchildren are getting handed to them."

-Woman, same location: "Every time President Trump gets himself backed into a corner he starts lashing out, and then things get worse. He's in hot water over the Epstein files, so suddenly he wants sports teams to change their names and put Obama into jail. Did you hear how he's going to block a team from building a new stadium unless they do what he tells me? Come on. We're catching on to his method."

-Man near the Allegan Post Office, "It's the big news and Democrats who are causing all of this hullabaloo. They're the ones! They keep stirring things up all the time. They're the real enemy!"

-Couple, same location; Man: "It's a real mess. It's always one thing or another with Trump. He thrives on chaps." Woman: "This country hasn't been right since Gerald Ford was the president. He was a real gentleman. A real gentleman." Man: "So was Reagan. He may have made a mess of some things, but he was a straight shooter."

Allegan High School class of 1975 walk down Memory Lane

The Allegan High School class of 1975 gathered for their 50th class reunion at The Silo on Saturday, July 19, 2025. There were 89 graduates in attendance along with teachers plus spouses. The displays shared photos gleaned from yearbooks and classmates while one expressed the sadness of losing 49 class members of a graduating class that total about 200. Favorite music, performing artists, movies and more were displayed to highlight 1975. Pam Peet Vermilye who wrote the class farewell speech 50 years ago, shared "Through the Years". The organizing committee was commended for a job well done in finding and inviting so many members of the class and for the activities of the evening. It was truly an event to highlight memories of the past, to create new memories, and to look to the future. Photo: Sarah Konecki

City hears updates on economic development and investments

By Gari Voss

The Monday, July 28, 2025, meeting of the Allegan City Council set aside time for presentation from Lakeshore Advantage and Huntington Securities. Lakeshore Advantage focuses on economic development by supporting primary businesses and entrepreneurial companies. Huntington Securities manages the City's investments that are keep for capital projects. Along with presentations, the Council approved purchase orders and contracted with Weichert Realtors to sell parcel that could not be developed by the city.

Ordinance 530 to Rezone

The first reading of Ordinance 530 to rezone 650 Grand Street and schedule a second reading and public hearing for August 11, 2025, passed.

Community Action of Allegan County (CAAC) applied to rezone 650 Grand Street from various zoning districts to a Planned Unit Development District (PUD) and shared a multi-phased development plan. The intent is to relocate CAAC and consolidate their operation to a central location, which is the former United Way facility. The Planning Commission reviewed and approved the application to rezone on July 21, 2025. This will create a Family Empowerment Center that will offer wrap around services. CAAC has received a grant for $4.5 million to develop a site that can support families in the county.

PRESENTATIONS & REPORTS

Lakeshore Advantage, a non-profit economic organization, made a presentation regarding their 2024 Activities in Allegan as it relates to Economic Development. Mandy Cooper, VP for Strategic Initiatives for Lakeshore Advantage, explained that Lakeshore works to ensure a healthy economy along the lakeshore that includes Allegan and Ottawa Counties. They focus on primary employers that are a healthy catalyst and export more products out of the region than can be consumed in the region. These businesses raise the economic value of the area. They also support entrepreneurs who are starting or building a business.

Lakeshore works to expand the business base of primary businesses. In the City of Allegan, Lakeshore has identified 12 primary employers and had 31 unique interactions in the last year. In the last 2 years, there have been 2 expansion projects. This represents $2 million in private investment. Lakeshore has assisted with $1.4 M for Going Pro Training that assists employees in gaining certifications that are transferable. One of the targeted businesses was Fabricated Components & Assemblies that received $1.1 million of private investment for a 12,000 square feet of expansion and had 5 new or retained jobs. Cooper stressed that the small to mid-sized employers often need assistance in order to grow.

The Strategic Site Readiness Program uses State funding. There is a lack in industrial space for companies to expand. Therefore, Lakeshore must work with local municipalities to locate sites where a business can grow. This is done before employers begin to look, and Lakeshore has identified 480 acres for five approved projects.

Lakeshore is currently working on 15 projects, with most are in the pipeline for possible expansion. These represent $562 million in private investment. Eight of the projects are in Allegan County but are moving a bit slower than normal. The projects represent a potential for 295 new jobs.

An important element for success is to identify challenges. Allegan needs workers in high demand jobs - skilled trades, engineers, industrial technicians, and software and systems engineers. Lakeshore keeps researching what will keep these people working in the lakeshore area.

Gaining information and identifying businesses and resources make Lakeshore Advantage important to Allegan and other municipalities in Allegan and Ottawa Counties.

Huntington Bank Investments

Jamie Hebebrand from Huntington Securities, Inc. presented the City's Investment Portfolio and economic updates. The City maintains a Capital Asset Improvement Sinking Fund and a Capital Reserve Sinking Fund. Both are restricted for capital projects. Even though the Market Value fluctuates, the investments have held overtime. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2025, the Capital Asset Improvement Sinking Fund had an investment return of $135,543. In addition, transfers were made of $45,180.82 to the City's General Fund and $45,180.82 to the Capital Reserve Sinking Fund for a total of $90,361.73. No expenditure was made during FY 2025.

The Capital Reserve Sinking Fund for FY2025 had a loss of $469.15 with no transfers out or expenditures.

REPORTS

The Allegan Wellhead Protection Plan Committee is working on Interpretive Signs from Vacker Signs of Kalamazoo. One sign will be on the boardwalk looking at the Water Plant and the other on riverfront with information about the water cycle. The Bridgefest Station distributed 233 T-shirts and most were tie-dyed. The Water Monster hydration station was enjoyed, and other items were distributed. Looking forward, plastic water bottles, T-shirts and stickers will be distributed during the Allegan County Fair Parade on September 8th, and during the Christmas Parade on December 1st, tumblers with hot cocoa packets will be handed out. An EGLE grant was submitted for activities. The members continue to research abandoned wells.

The Planning Commission discussed rezoning 650 Grant St. for Allegan County Community Action and reviewed their action plan for a new early education center, offices and warehouse for the Community Action Agency. Lisa Evans, the Community Action Director, and Max Nykerk from Lakewood Construction were able to answer questions for the commissioners. The members continue to explore ways to create more housing in Allegan.

The Fire District Board reported 45 incidents plus man hours. Chief Nick Brink is still waiting on roof estimates. Life EMS moved on June 14, 2025, from the City Fire Station to their new home on M-89 near Baker Chevrolet. August 23, 2025, will be the annual Pancake Breakfast then switch to spaghetti for lunch.

WATER UTILITIES

The request to approve PO 26-0827 in the amount of $47,786.25 to Waste Recovery Systems for sewer cleaning and televising lines through the Grand Street, Water Street and Rossman Park neighborhoods passed. The cleaning of the sewer mains will be in conjunction with construction projects. Water Director Doug Sweeris felt it extremely important to get eyes inside the sewer mains. Phase 1 will be Rossman Park's initial inspection. Phase 2 will end the Rossman Park Project. Phase 3 will include Water and Grand Streets sewer mains. The cleaning may have an additional cost once cameras make their inspection, so the quote is "not to exceed". The question rose regarding if the city could get this equipment, but even if the city had the camera, it doesn't have the manpower. The city does not have the manpower since staff is busy with replacing lead lines plus there is an emergency main break on North Street that must be rectified.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

Payment of Bills. The request to approve accounts payable in the amount of $825,364.40 and payroll in the amount of $148,625.43 for a total disbursement of $973,989.83 passed.

The May Revenue and Expenditure report was accepted. When asked if there are any areas to watch, Financial Director Tracy Shull explained that the May 2025 report contained few adjustments. The June 2025 report will require more adjustments to end the FY. There are no unusual expenses that were not approved previously. There is work in progress for projects, but nothing that should be a shock.

Surplus Equipment. The request to declare various equipment as surplus items and direct staff to sell them at auction was approved. The pieces listed have value so they cannot be scrapped. City Manager Joel Dye explained that this helps clean up the storage area.

Items going on the auction block are:

From Public Works - Toro Zero Turn Mower 60", Toro Zero Turn Mower 52", Set of pontoons, Six sets of Aluminum Bleachers, Three Outboard Motors from the pontoons, Pull behind Brush Chipper, and Walk behind leaf blower.

From Water Utilities - a sewer push camera and a 40+/- 55 gallon blue barrels

From the Administration Services, two Multifunction High-Capacity Printers, and two Spotlights.

City Realtor. In response to the request from the Council to find a realtor to sell the 7 or 8 excess city parcels, an RFP was released. Bids were received from Weichert Realtors – Platinum Group and Coldwell Banker Sneller Real Estate. Both Realtors are well known in the city, but after an examination of bids, it was determined that Weichert Realtors responded more accurately to the RFP at a better price. The Council approved Weichert Realtors – Platinum Group for a 2-year contract to sell unbuildable parcels.

Wayfinder Parking Lot Signs. A Purchase Order for the construction and installation of Parking Lot Identification Signs was approved. This is the first phase of the Wayfinding Project that began about 2 years ago. The approved plan identified the types of signs and placement. The first step identified was for Parking Lot signs. $50,000 was set aside, so the bid of $30,225 by Sign Art was within budget. Though the bid by Valley City Signs was $23,457.28, it included an incomplete plan and budget.

Lakeshore Advantage Services. The request to approve P.O. 26-0825 in the amount of $10,000 to Lakeshore Advantage for Economic Development Services passed. This covers the annual fees and continued support to businesses in Allegan.

Parcel Split. The request to approve a lot split for parcel 03-51-130-001-002 passed. This will complete the agreement with the new owners of Sunset Lanes. The parcel along Sherman Street had been approved for sale, but the lot split had been overlooked.

City Manager Contract. The request to adopt Resolution 25.24 amending the City Manager's Contract passed. The Council conducted a review that was discussed in a closed session. The contract will include a 4% increase which is in line with the increase given to non-union members.

PUBLIC COMMENTS

Support was given for Lakeshore Advantage, but the concern was voiced that small businesses do not understand that they can receive assistance from the Lakeshore Team since they deal with entrepreneurial services. The city should encourage a better relation between small Allegan businesses and Lakeshore Advantage.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE CITY MANAGER

City Manager Dye attended a conference for city leaders. He returned with two takeaways. 1. Conduct open office time with the public. He is thinking about the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays to follow Council meetings. The first would be in the morning or early afternoon while the second would be in the early evening to accommodate working schedules. 2. Dye would like to run a City Hall 101 Education Series for city leadership that will include sessions where residents can meet to learn about city government. This could assist in growing volunteers for boards and council members.

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION

Mr. Canales commented that customers coming from out of town to A-Tech were sharing that they liked the new downtown.

Ms. Hooker had worked on the sidewalk sales and felt there was a good turnout. The scavenger hunt included 15 different stores, and Saturday brought numerous family friendly, hands on activities.

Mr. Walker received good feedback on Saturday and was meeting people from out of town. He did feel the need to improve communication.

Mr. Hanse asked about protection for the air conditioners near the Regent Theater. He also suggested an update of the website regarding Explore Allegan, so parks included pictures and amenities.

Mayor Perrigo commented that Ely Street was looking good. The project is on schedule and needs some painting.

Allegan Conservation District celebrates new facility

By Gari Voss

The Allegan Conservation District (ACD) celebrated in fine style with a Grand Opening of their new facility on Taft Road, Saturday, July 19, 2025.

Visitors were greeted at the door by John Pigeon of the Potawatomi Nation who shared his basketmaking and stories. Entering the large delivery area, no one went hungry thanks to the meats, cheese and vegetable trays furnished by Scott's Pig Roast. The next stop was the NRCS Enviroscape Watershed Model and Ground Water Model where children and adults alike could learn about how water flows to supply our needs. The Allegan Food Alliance provided a seed craft for kids and adults while sharing the success they have had in constructing gardens around Allegan.

Leaving the larger area and passing through the meeting / workshop room, visitors stopped to examine the display of the many programs offered by the Allegan Conservation District. Then it was on to the entry area where the ODC Network's Conservation Connection's Wildlife Booth was ready to share their programs and animals. The booth had tables full of natural history artifacts for families to explore - feathers, fur, bones, skulls, etc. Plus, there were live animals including amphibians, reptiles, and birds. The center of attraction was the owl that watched its audience very carefully.

Throughout the day, The Hoot Owls shared their music. The members have a deep love for conservation and the earth and have spent time supporting the work of the ACD and serving on boards. Visitors pulled up chairs or sat under the veranda to enjoy the music while nibbling on appetizers and taking a break from visiting with staff, enjoying exhibits, and admiring the antique tractors provided by board member Dale Hedberg.

"We are so excited to connect with our community and show them who we are and how we will utilize the new facility," shared Alison Peterson-Loll, administrative specialist.

Be sure to check the Allegan Conservation District calendar of events at https://www.alleganCD.org/events to learn about opportunities related to conservation techniques, establishing gardens, growing mushrooms, or weaving basket with John Pigeon.

A favorite stop for visitors during the Grand Opening of the Allegan Conservation District facility on July 19, 2025, was the ODC Network's Conservation Connection's Wildlife Booth. The many animal artifacts were great, but the owl received the majority of attention and conversation. The stately bird stared intently at the group gathered as the group learned about its habitat and habits.

Young and not so young learned about the watershed and ground water thanks to the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) model at the Grand Opening of the Allegan Conservation District on July 19, 2025.

Lee Twp man takes plea deal in fatal DUI crash that killed mother

A man has plead no contest to a fatal drunk driving crash in Allegan County that killed a mother who was bicycling with her daughter.

Joel Rojas-Chanito made the plea on July 23 and is set to be sentenced on Aug. 25 at 9 a.m. in Allegan Circuit Court.

Chanito was arrested and charged after he hit and killed Tracey Lynn Decker when she was out biking with her daughter and then fled the scene.

He pleaded no contest to count 4, DWI causing serious injury. As part of the plea deal, the other three counts, including operating while intoxicated causing death, failure to stop at the scene of an accident and operating with a suspended or revoked license, were dismissed.

Chanito admitted to police that he had been drinking throughout the day, and left his home to go get more alcohol.

On his way home, he told police he was driving east on 111th Avenue in Lee Township when he struck Decker on her bike. Chanito told police he refused to stop to help Decker and instead went home and continued drinking until he fell asleep.

thousand dollars of taxable value) for five years, 2025 through 2029, inclusive, to provide operating funds, equipment, and apparatus for the Fire Department; and shall the Township be authorized to levy this tax?"

The estimated revenue the Township will collect if the millage is approved and levied in the 2026 calendar year is approximately $937,750.00 which is approximately $312,000.00 more than if it was renewed at 1.0 mills.

Lee Township

Lee Township has one proposal on the ballot that will renew funds for road construction, upgrades, maintenance and improvements. This renewal would reestablish the 2.0 that has dropped to 1.9103 because of Headley rollbacks. The 2.0 mills would be for 2025-2027, and fund road construction, upgrades, maintenance, and improvements in Lee Township. Approval would reinstate an estimated $216,459 in the first year the millage is levied.

Manlius Township

Manlius Township also has multiple proposals that can improve township living.

Road Millage Renewal. The township board would like to renew the 2.0 mills to continue funding road improvements. Again, Headley took its toll and reduced the millage to 1.9564 mills. Approval would reinstate the 2.0 mills for the next 4 years, 2025 through 2029, and raise an estimated $309,862 for road improvements in its first year.

Fire Protection Renewal. The Board would like to regain the 1.75 millage rate for 2025 through 2029 for Township fire protection, which shall include maintenance, equipment, operations, first responders, emergency services and ambulance services, if applicable. The funds would be paid to the Fennville Area Fire Department, Hamilton Fire Department, and a contracted ambulance service provider, and would raise an estimated $270,254 in the first year.

Road Resurfacing Renewal. Headley reduced mills allotted to road resurfacing from 1.5 mills to 1.4673. The Board would like to reinstate the 1.5 mills for 2025 through 2029 and raise an estimated $231,647 for the first year of the renewal.

Schools Proposals

So very often, school proposals are decided on the August ballot. These requests are extremely important to the children and families of the school district but may be over-looked by voters. The Fennville Bond Proposal is in the heart of Allegan County while the other two are on the fringes.

Fennville Public Schools

The Fennville Schools have a unique request in that the millage will be a decrease from previous years because the Elementary School loans have recently been paid. The new improvements will not be as expensive as the Elementary Complex, and thus, will require fewer funds. But these improvements are extremely important.

The Fennville Public School District would like to borrow a sum not to exceed $22,350,000 for remodeling, equipping and re-equipping, and furnishing and refurnishing school buildings and facilities; erecting and equipping structures for outdoor education programs; and preparing, developing, improving, and equipping playgrounds and sites.

The estimated millage that will be levied for the proposed bonds in 2025 is 1.29 mills for a 0.5 mill net decrease from the prior year's levy. Over time, the school district does not expect to borrow from the State to pay debt services on the bonds.

Delton Kellogg Public Schools

On the east side of Allegan County, a small portion of residents live in the Delton Kellogg Public School District. This population will have the opportunity to support the district by approving the Operating Millage Renewal.

"This proposal will allow the school district to continue to levy the statutory rate of not to exceed 18 mills on all property, except principal residence and other property exempted by law, required for the school district to receive its revenue per pupil foundation allowance and renews millage that will expire with the 2025 tax levy."

Thus, if the mills are reestablished, the district will maintain the 18 mills which is approximately $4,250,000 for 2026.

City of Holland School District

To the west side of Allegan County, another contingent of voters lives in the Holland Public School District. Holland is asking for the approval of a Bond Proposal that is not to exceed $49,225,000 for the purpose of erecting additions to, remodeling, including security improvements to, furnishing and refurnishing, and equipping and re-equipping school buildings; acquiring and installing instructional technology and instructional technology equipment for school buildings; erecting school support buildings; purchasing school buses; and erecting, developing and improving athletic fields and facilities, parking areas, and sites.

The estimated millage for the bonds in 2026 would be .63 mills which would be a 0.0 increase from 2025. The maximum number of years would be 30, with the anticipated millage to retire the bond debt of 1.03 mills annually.

Time and Locations

The bottom line… Each vote is important in the decision making process. Polls are open on Tuesday, August 5, 2025, from 7am to 8pm at Fennville City, 125 S. Maple St.; Holland City, Wd. 4/9 Calvary Baptist Church, 517 W. 32nd; Gun Plain Township, voting at Prairieville Township Hall; Barry County Laketown Township, Pct. 1&3, 4338 Beeline Rd.; Holland City, Wd. 5/11 & 12 Maplewood Reformed Church, 133 E. 34th St.; South Haven City, 539 Phoenix St.; Laketown Township Pct. 2, GFD Station, 4534 60th St.; Lee Township, 877 56th St.; Casco Township, 7104 107th Ave.; Clyde Township, 1679 56th St.; Manlius Township, 3134 57th St.; Saugatuck Township, 3461 Blue Star Hwy.; Ganges Township, 1904 64th St.; and Valley Township, 2054 N. Civil cases also include small claims less that $6,500, landlord / tenant disputes, land contract disputes, and personal property recovery. Criminal cases cover misdemeanors, felonies, traffic violations related to speeding and drunk driving, arrest and search warrants, and arraignments and preliminary examinations for misdemeanors and felonies. The appointment will begin August 4, 2025, and expire at noon on January 1, 2027. This means that Burnette will need to decide if he wishes to seek a full term by running in the 2026 election cycle.

Abandoned Wells
Got one?

The Allegan Wellhead Protection Program is looking for abandoned, unplugged wells.

Abandoned, unused, unplugged wells threaten groundwater resources and public health. Contaminants from the surface such as fertilizers, pesticides or other run off water, can easily move downward through the unsealed, abandoned well and enter the aquifer. These contaminants may end up in your drinking water well, your neighbors well or the local community drinking water wells.

The City of Allegan would like to identify any abandoned, unplugged wells in and around its wellhead protection zone and explore having them plugged. The zone extends east from the city of Allegan along the north side of M-222 east to 24th St.

If you are the owner of the abandoned, unplugged well and would like assistance in plugging the well. Please contact Allegan Water Utilities at 269-686-1117 or by emailing to Doug Sweeris at dsweeris@cityofallegan.org

Fales adds three more Lions Club titles to her resume

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

Some people collect vintage toys. Others collect baseball cards. Or coins. Or stamps.

Addy Fales? She collects titles at the Allegan Lions Club City Championship Tennis Tournament.

Fales—who will soon start her senior year at Allegan High School—won a Triple Crown for the second straight year and the third time in four years, meaning she secured titles in singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

This year's tournament was held the week of July 21.

Fales won the Girls 18 & Under singles title (over Sophia Augustine), the Girls 18 & Under doubles title (with Camdyn Drozd over Augustine and Hanna Kievit) and the 18 & Under mixed doubles title (with Carson Woodhams over Maddie Cook and Wesley Goodspeed).

Fales now has 17 Lions Club championships to her credit, putting her in a tie for second place for most titles in the event's 54-year history. Only her sister Regan—who now serves as director of the Allegan Summer Tennis Program—has more.

Drozd joined Fales in earning a Triple Crown, as did Emily Gaulke.

In addition to her mixed doubles title with Fales, Drozd claimed the Girls 14 & Under singles title (over Madi Knoepke) and the 14 & Under mixed doubles title (with Cam Knoepke over Savannah Woodhams and Ty Mikolajczyk).

Gaulke shined at 12 & Under, winning the Girls singles (over Ava Kievit), Girls doubles (with Ava Kievit over Lauren Mikolajczyk and Ecco Stull) and the mixed doubles (with Jace Cooper over Lauren Mikolajczyk and Hudson Vance) at that age group.

All told, a total of 116 matches were played at this year's event, marking an increase of approximately 20 matches compared to last year.

"This tournament is one of the highlights of our summer tennis program," organizers said in a statement. "The tennis is good and it is great to see so many families supporting the players throughout the tournament."

As always, the tournament remains a true family affair.

"Quite a few of those parents played in the tournament when they were junior tennis players," organizers said. "For our players and parents, the Allegan Lions Club continues to provide an excellent opportunity and learning experience for each of them to learn more about the sport and tournament play."

Of the 66 players who participated, 28 were playing in a tennis tournament for the first time.

"For many, this was their first exposure to tournament competition," organizers said. "The first day of the tournament with the new players is always an adventure. It is amazing watching their improvement as the tournament progresses."

As always, no fees were required for participating, as the Allegan Lions Club handles any related costs.

"With the support of the Allegan Lions Club, there are no entry fees to the players," organizers said. "The tournament is a good end of season finale for the Allegan Recreation Department's summer tennis program.

"The Allegan Lions Club and its sponsorship of the tournament is another factor in the continued success of our high school teams. Many former Allegan Lions Club participants have earned all-conference and all-state recognition."

In addition to the winners of the Lions Club be honored, awards were also given for various categories for the Summer Tennis Program.

Winning awards were: Noah Kuebler and Maddie Cook for the Volunteer Award; Wesley Goodspeed and Ellie Oram for Most Improved; Deacon VanderKooi and Lauren Mikolajczy for Sportsmanship; and Carson Woodhams and Savannah Woodhams for Most Dedicated.

Top Senior Student-Athletes: Hamilton

Jeren Bronkhorst carries the ball for Hamilton in a game last season. (Photo provided)

Jeren Bronkhorst

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

Regardless of the season, recent Hamilton High School graduate Jeren Bronkhorst could be found participating in a sport.

In addition to playing four years of football and four years of basketball, he ran track for three years and was on the golf team one year.

And while he enjoyed each of those sports, one stood out above the others.

"Football ended up being my favorite sport in high school because it gave me the freedom to fly around the field and play physical," he said. "Also with that freedom, I was assigned to lead the defense and that was very important to me because I knew how much my teammates wanted to win.

"I also made connections through the games and practices. I made bonds with my teammates that will last a lifetime."

For his efforts on the gridiron—as well as the basketball court, track and golf course—Bronkhorst was named Male Senior Athlete of the Year at Hamilton.

The honor was a meaningful one for him.

"The Athlete of the Year Award was something I knew about as a very young kid because I would see the picture of previous winners on the wall," he said. "I wanted my name to be up there one day.

"And when I realized that I had the chance to be named the Athlete of the Year, I did everything in my power to make it happen. After I won the award, it meant a lot to me and it felt like I accomplished a massive goal in my life."

Of course, Bronkhorst didn't accomplish the goal alone, as family members, coaches and teachers helped him along the way.

When it came to coaches, two stood out in particular—former varsity football coach Phil Koops and JV basketball/AAU basketball coach Cody Cooper.

"Coach Koops and Coach Cooper had huge impacts on my develop-

Kaitlyn Geurink

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

When asked about her favorite sport, recent Hamilton High School grad Kaitlyn Geurink doesn't hesitate to offer her answer.

"Basketball."

And why was hoops her favorite?

"I was always pretty good at it," she said.

She's also pretty good at being humble. Because "pretty good" is a rather large understatement when it comes to describing Geurink's abilities on the hardwood.

Twice she was named to the Division 2 All-State girls basketball team, garnering Honorable Mention accolades as a junior and Second Team honors as a senior.

It's easy to see why.

During her junior campaign, she averaged 18.6 points, 7.8 rebounds, 2.9 steals and 2.1 assists per game. Her scoring average was even higher as a senior, with her other numbers staying strong as well.

■ see Geurink, Page B2

Those performances—along with her strong showing in volleyball—helped Geurink garner Female Senior Athlete of the Year for Hamilton's graduating class of 2025.

The impact of the honor wasn't lost on Geurink given her affinity for her hometown.

"I loved growing up with Hamilton," said Geurink, who played volleyball and basketball all four years during high school after picking up the sports around age nine. "It was great to play for all of the people I know and love.

"And it was an honor to be named Female Athlete at Hamilton. I appreciate everyone that made that possible."

Between her high school and travel seasons for basketball and volleyball, Geurink's schedule was pretty full.

That, however, didn't stop her from finding some down time.

And it shouldn't come as a surprise that those "down" moments also involved sports and outdoor activities.

"Sports definitely kept me very busy," she said. "But I also enjoyed going to other sporting events and fishing."

In addition to the All-State honors she received, career highlights for Geurink included reaching the 1,000 plateau in career scoring.

But for all of those individual accolades, it's another aspect of her time playing sports at Hamilton that sticks out to her.

"My favorite memories from high school athletics were all the laughs we would have during practice," she said.

Geurink, who fell in love with sports because of "how fun and competitive they were," is thankful for the lessons she learned through her playing career.

"Athletics gave me a good work ethic and taught me how to be responsible," she said.

Those are lessons she plans to take with her to Saginaw Valley State University, where she plans to study kinesiology and join the school's women's basketball team.

"My goal is for us to be at the top of the conference," she said.

And as she continues to progress in her basketball career, Geurink said she wants to keep having fun playing the sport she loves.

"My high school AAU coach had a big impact on me because she made me a better player while making basketball fun," she said. "I want to keep getting better and keep having fun."

ment as a player and a person," Bronkhorst said. "Koops gave me a chance as a sophomore to play varsity football and start at linebacker. With that came a lot of responsibility. I grew a lot and fast as a player with his wisdom.

"I was a player for Coach Cooper for four-plus years, and some of those teams had many ups and downs. With those ups and downs, he taught us countless of life lessons that I carry with me."

Among the lessons Bronkhorst learned from Cooper and his other coaches was that there are things bigger than himself and that playing together as a team is required for winning.

"Sports also taught me that through hard work you will be rewarded and to always give 110 percent into every detail," he said.

In addition to the life lessons Bronkhorst will take with him, he also has plenty of memories from his representing Hamilton in athletics. And none of memories is more vivid that the night he and his teammates bested Unity Christian—the top-ranked boys basketball team in Division 2—by a score of 65-63 in overtime during his senior season.

"Beating the number-one team in the state in basketball is something I'll always remember," he said. "And beating Grand Rapids Christian on homecoming to secure a spot in the (football) playoffs for the first time since 2016 is also a special memory."

Bronkhorst hopes to make many more sports-related memories over the next four years, as he's headed to Saginaw Valley State University to play football

"Some of my goals are to work my way up and end up being a very impactful player for the Cardinals," he said.

And while he looks forward to playing in front of the home crowd at SVSU, he knows how special it was to play for the fans at Hamilton.

"To be a Hamilton athlete means a lot to me," he said. "The community always has your back through hard times and the good times.

"That also came with lots of responsibility. I had to hold myself to the high standard of being a Hawkeye and I'm very thankful I grew up around such a positive community."

Allegan Summer Tennis wraps up another successful season

The Allegan Summer Tennis Program recently wrapped up its 2025 season.

And, as usual, the long-running program brought out dozens of children to learn the fundamentals of the sport at the Gary Ellis Courts on the campus of L.E. White Middle School.

The youngest participants were part of the Tiny Tykes group (top right), which includes children as young as three.

The other children were part of the Future Stars group.

Peek at the Past

From the pages of The Allegan News and The Allegan County News and Gazette:

July 31, 1950

Nix Griswold for school use: Allegan's school board learned last week that the board of directors of the Griswold memorial building had turned down their request for space to be used as classrooms.

The board said that full use of the building by local organizations prevents turning a part of the building over to the school system.

The school board has been conducting a canvass of the city in an attempt to find suitable space to handle an overflow of grade school pupils. The Griswold building was one of their main hopes.

In turning down the request, the Griswold board said "as you know, many users maintain programs of cultural or educational nature which have a most important part in our community life."

The Griswold board suggested three alternatives for the city's school housing problem.

Local barber gives autographed ball to Baseball's Hall of Fame: A bit of baseball memorabilia has left Allegan with Cooperstown, N.Y., its destination.

A baseball, owned by Allegan barber Joe Newton and signed by most of the 1935 World Champion Detroit Tigers, was donated by Newton to the Baseball Hall of Fame last week.

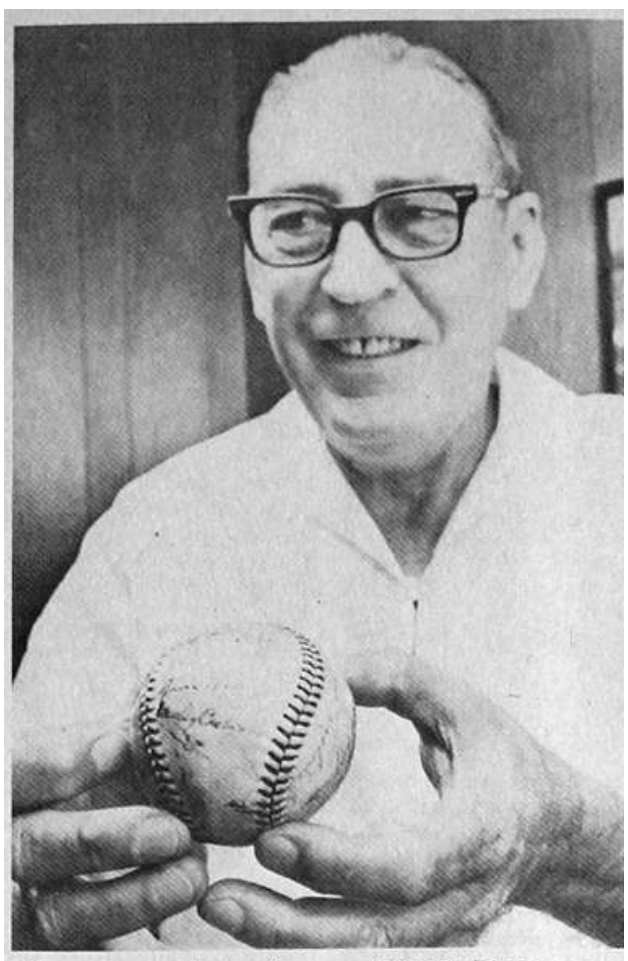
The ball has been a prized possession of Newton for 40 years, but he recently decided to turn it over to the national shrine lest something untoward should happen to hit.

He will receive a scroll as a memento of the gift.

Tommy Bridges, along with Lynwood "Schoolboy" Row—aces of the Tigers pitching staff of the era—instigated the signing of the ball for Newton, who was barbering near the then-quite-elite section of Detroit where several of the Tigers players lived.

Bridges and, on occasion, some of the other team members were often golfing partners of the Allegan resident at Rackham Golf Course.

Aug. 3, 2000



The names of two famous Detroit Tigers are visible on this baseball, autographed by most of the 1935 World Champions, which Joe Newton, holding the ball, this week presented to the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y. Newton's son Bill, who contacted the Hall to see if they were interested, found they were not only that, but they were surprised and pleased to find it was to be donated. The signatures of Hall of Famer Mickey Cochrane and "Goose" Goslin are quite clear in the picture.

Incumbent sheriff David Haverdink stands to make a closing statement at the candidates' debate. His challengers (from left) Donald E. Norwood Sr., Blaine Koops and Dennis L. Ross await a turn at the microphone. (Photo by Dan Kelsey)

Candidates face public, respond to questions: All four candidates for Allegan County sheriff appeared on one dais to debate before voters Thursday, July 27. The League of Women Voters of Holland sponsored the forum in the gymnasium at Douglas Elementary.

Republicans David Haverdink, Blaine Koops and Donald E. Norwood Sr. and Democrat Dennis L. Ross passed the microphone back and forth during more than an hour of give and take.

The tone was amicable.

The format allotted each candidate three minutes for opening and closing statements. In between, a moderator posed questions written on slips of paper before the debate by an audience of about 60 people. Authors of the questions were not identified.

One person asked Koops how he felt about leaving the Holland Police Department. He said his years on the force had been a great experience that helped prepare him to be sheriff. Ross, in a lighter mode, offered a similar perspective on the question.

"I think Blaine's done a great job in Holland, and he should stay there," Ross said.

Dave Ashley and son Scott each record first hole-in-one on same day: Like father, like son.

That was certainly the case for Dave and Scott Ashley on Wednesday, July 8.

Because just two hours after Allegan resident Dave, 72, recorded the first hole-in-one in his four decades of playing golf, Scott, 48, matched the feat with his first hole-in-one, albeit more than 100 miles away.

Dave's ace came at Shamrock Hills Golf Course, while Scott's came at Lakeside Lynx Golf Course in Ludington.

"I have to say this is the highlight of my time golfing," Dave said. "I had through about what it would feel like to get a hole-in-one, but the experience is much better than I could imagine. The fact that my son Scott also got his first one a couple of hours later made it even more exciting.

"It's quite a story."

Scott couldn't think of a better scenario for his first hole-in-one.

"It feels amazing to be able to share this accomplishment on the same day with the guy who introduced me to this game and brought me up to learn to love it so much," Scott said.

Dave's one-in-one came on hole No. 12 at Shamrock Hills. It's a par 3 and covers 130 yards.

As he was preparing to start the second nine, Dave realized he probably should make some quick phone calls.

"I called my wife Pam, and she was as excited as I was," Dave said. "Then I called Scott and he was excited and happy for me."

Dave then continued playing. And when he got to the final hole of the day, it was his turn to receive a phone call from Scott.

In the early evening of Friday, July 25, 2025, participants listened to Michelle Hunt present Holbein Water Media and introduce the supplies. The free workshop was hosted at Brave Art Studio and Galleries, and those gathered worked in the garden to create their own pieces. Receiving guidance from Hunt and sharing ideas with others made this a wonderful, creative experience. Pictured: Mary Bak, Russell Foster, Kass Hilliard, Judy Hunt and Arlene Barber. Brave Art Studio hosted free classes

By Gari Voss

Paulette and Tim Carr at Brave Art Studio and Galleries promote local artists while encouraging new talent to explore and expand their skills. Not only have they been instrumental in advancing art in the Allegan area through Art Reach that displays the work of local artists at the Griswold Auditorium and City Hall, but they keep finding new events to hold around Allegan County and in the garden behind their studio.

Paulette is adamant about encouraging the shy artists to share their talents no matter what their medium of visual artistry. As she learns more about the artists across Allegan County, she is amazed at the breath of beautiful pieces they create but keep hidden.

The Carr's most recent undertaking has been to offer free workshops and invite all who are interested to roll up their sleeves and let their creative juices flow.

On Friday, July 25, 2025, 22 artists of all levels and backgrounds gathered in the Brave Art Garden to enjoy a presentation of Holbein Water Media by Michelle Hunt. Holbein is a respected art supply company in the United States and Canada. All supplies were provided by Holbein Paints, so participants could explore their water media products on Legion Papers.

On Saturday, July 26, 2025, at 1 pm, artist Marilyn Troutman gave a presentation on Pastels.

"One of my very favorite artists, Marilyn Troutman, generously agreed to present a talk on some tips and tricks for "painting" with pastels!" explained Paulette. "This talk was free as were the supplies to practice the techniques."

The sixteen participants were able to pick up new techniques to enhance their creations. Then they used student grade pastels and papers for practice. While many used the materials provided, participants were invited to bring their own pastels if they wished.

Troutman is a member of the Great Lakes Pastel Society and was able to share some of her wonderful pieces.

As the summer continues to unfold, Carr has organized the Monday Masters who meet at different locations at 9am to do Plein Art. On Monday, July 28th, they met at the Armintrout/Milbocker Preserve in Allegan. They will be at Monet's Garden in Muskegon on August 4th, and Windmill Island in Holland on August 11th. All are welcome to join in the open air experience.

Carr is also partnering with the Allegan County Community Foundation to create art in their public space. This is an extension of Art Reach to display art around Allegan. Paulette Carr is exhibiting in the ACCF space through August 31, 2025. Beginning September 1st, Mary Clare Johnson will be exhibiting in the space. Other businesses are welcome to contact Carr to arrange for displays in their public spaces.

"I just love creating art communities," explained Carr. "So often we create in a vacuum in our studios. The opportunity to create with other artists raises the level of art for everyone involved. As we get art out in the community, the community benefits from that energy in the form of the highest level of art available! Having the artists in the garden to present these free workshops is just two examples of artists lifting up artists! I couldn't be more excited to host these events and meet all the artists."

Pastel artist Marilyn Troutman was able to share with participants some of her pastel art, to give tips and tricks when "painting" with pastels, then encourage the artists to create. The free pastel workshop was hosted by Brave Art Studio and Galleries in Allegan on Saturday, July 26, 2025. Pictured: left. Marilyn Troutman. Right. Abandoned Wells

Got one?

The Allegan Wellhead Protection Program is looking for abandoned, unplugged wells.

Abandoned, unused, unplugged wells threaten groundwater resources and public health. Contaminants from the surface such as fertilizers, pesticides or other run off water, can easily move downward through the unsealed, abandoned well and enter the aquifer. These contaminants may end up in your drinking water well, your neighbors well or the local community drinking water wells.

The City of Allegan would like to identify any abandoned, unplugged wells in and around its wellhead protection zone and explore having them plugged. The zone extends east from the city of Allegan along the north side of M-222 east to 24th St.

If you are the owner of the abandoned, unplugged well and would like assistance in plugging the well. Please contact Allegan Water Utilities at 269-686-1117 or by emailing to Doug Sweeris at dsweeris@cityofallegan.org

Leadership Program applications due July 31

By Gari Voss

Applications for the 2025-26 Allegan County Leadership Program are available until July 31, 2025. This program is designed for professionals, community leaders, residents, and any others who wish to deepen their understanding of Allegan County as they step into leadership roles that prepare for the future.

The Leadership Program is a program of the Allegan County Community Foundation (ACCF) that encourages community members to get involved in their community through different leadership opportunities.

As Stephanie Calhoun, ACCF President & CEO, shared, "We've already seen participants from that first cohort step into leadership roles and pursue board service in the community. It's exciting to see the ripple effect this program is starting to have—not just for the individuals involved, but for the entire community."

The Allegan County Leadership Program (ACLP) focuses on developing collaborative leaders. Specially constructed workshops and experiences are designed to give participants opportunities to initiate conversations with local businesses, leaders, non-profits, and community members.

Over the course of nine months, October 2025 – June 2026, participants will:

- Visit sites across the county
- Engage with nonprofit and civic leaders
- Explore critical community issues like poverty and economic development
- Build lasting connections with fellow changemakers

Because of the dynamics of the program, attendance is mandatory for all scheduled meetings. The 2025-2026 schedule is: October 9th, 2025, November 13th, 2025; December 11th, 2025; January 8th, 2026; February 12th, 2026; March 19th, 2026; April 9th, 2026; May 2026 - opportunities to engage in volunteer opportunities with the ACCF Scholarship Program; and June 11th, 2026 – the graduation event.

RELIGION SECTION

I subscribe to a weekly newsletter from the delightfully eccentric Jacob Rees-Moog, former Member of Parliament, from England. He is so retro that he is sometimes referred to as the "Ambassador from the Nineteenth Century." His clothes, automobile, words, and almost everything else are genuine vintage. However, he is no foppish character. When he speaks or writes, his mind is firing on all eight cylinders.

Recently he wrote about some changes in English law regarding assisted suicide. I realize some people would dismiss this because it pertains to the United Kingdom and not the United States. That might not be wise because ideas flow freely back and forth between the two nations. Already there are laws in several states allowing this practice, both at the beginning and the end of life.

I am not getting into a debate about freedom of choice or right to life, nor about terminating human life near the end of a long and terminal illness. Rather, I want to shift our focus to an emphasis on the dignity of life from birth until physical death. Rees-Mogg cites the life of Saint Macrina of Cappadocia as an example.

Living at about the same time Constantine proclaimed Christianity as the official religion of the Roman Empire, and the sister of two great early church fathers, she devoted her life to prayer and contemplation. However, during times of war, famine, and disease, she left the convent to tour the local refuse dumps. Sometimes she found weak and elderly people, discarded by family and friends because they were no longer productive. She took them home to the convent. She went in search of abandoned babies whose parents had no means to feed yet another child. She rescued many of them, most of them girls because baby girls were considered the least valuable persons.

Today, abandoning a child or an elderly person, is illegal, and our society does everything to prevent it from happening. But as we look at our culture, do we see it as a culture of life or death? Are we living in a vast spiritual desert where an individual only has value if they are contributing to the rest of society? Have we lost our belief in God who teaches there is dignity in all life that far surpasses utilitarian value?

Those are challenging questions for us, and often they are hard to look at and explore. It is far easier to divert our attention to something else. For Christians, how we care for our neighbor is truly doing the work of Christ. In the Episcopal communion, as well as others, when we renew our baptismal vows we promise before God and one another that we will do our best to uphold the dignity of all persons. All persons - not just those who look and sound like us, or economically contribute to the nation's coffers.
